

DR. GREER ACCEPTS POST OF COADJUTOR

In a Feeling Address He Signifies His Willingness to Take Up Honor Which the Diocesan Convention Has Offered Him.

RECEIVED BY THE BISHOP.

Is Escorted to Church by J. Pierpont Morgan and Rest of Committee, Where Convention Welcomes Him Standing.

Preceding the opening to-day of the second day's session of the Diocesan Convention at the Church of the Holy Communion was held at 10 o'clock. Dean Wilfred L. Robbins, of the General Theological Seminary, was the celebrant and delivered an address. At 10 o'clock the convention opened. Dr. J. Lewis Parks, J. Pierpont Morgan and William M. Grosvenor, composing the committee selected yesterday to notify Dr. David H. Greer, of his election to the office of Bishop Coadjutor of the Diocese of New York, left the church to find Dr. Greer, who was where he was received by Bishop Potter, while the convention remained standing.

Bishop Potter said: "It is rather a pathetic association of this function, as my dear friend Mr. Morgan reminded me last night, twenty years ago to-day, practically, he walked up the aisle of St. Augustine's chapel in company with the Rev. Dr. Morgan and Hamilton Fish, who had been appointed to convey to me notice of my appointment as Bishop of the Diocese of New York. I am sure we man congratulate Mr. Morgan and the rector of Trinity that they both survived to be present on this occasion."

"You are glad to be able to present to you one who has already intimated that he is ready to accept the burden and responsibility you have laid upon him. I think it is a fortunate thing for the diocese of New York that there should be called to the diocese this man at this time."

"I may also say that I believe profoundly that the clergy of this diocese and the laity of this diocese will find in him a man of large and generous sympathies and of a willingness to recognize the governing conditions of the diocese of New York and to have charge of the administration of all sorts and conditions of men."

"I have great delight in presenting him to you and asking you to rise and receive from his own lips the answer to the call which you have given him."

Dr. Greer, who appeared to be much affected by the address, said: "I am too much impressed with the solemnity of this occasion to use the ordinary language of conventional courtesy to thank you for what you have done."

"I do not at all regard it in the light of an honor and compliment. It is far above all that. It is a great and sacred trust for which you have seen fit to summon me."

"I think I may say that many of you know I did not seek this rather than from it. I was happy and contented in my field of work, and hoped that in that field I could fill up the measure of my usefulness to my God and my fellow men, and it breaks my heart to leave it. But you have called me to do it. I am compelled to be the Bishop of any party or school in this diocese or in the church at large."

"I recognize the fact that beneath the surface, however diversified that face may be, there is a deep and true devotion to our common Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ."

"There is no name that can so touch and sway our hearts as That Name. That Name is the one that shall recognize and that personality is the one that I shall try to serve."

"There are only two things for me to say in conclusion. That is, that it would be a great privilege to stand by the side of our worthy and able Bishop, who has for a score of years borne the burden of this arduous responsibility and work, and who has attained the highest reputation and character not only throughout this diocese, but throughout the church, such a faithful and conscientious manner and with such statesmanlike ability."

"The only other thing I have to say, gentlemen, is this: I cannot but recognize it as the call of God, and whatever it may involve me personally as such, with such power as God has given me and such help as you can furnish and supply, I will cheerfully and bravely accept the responsibility and devote myself to work of that high order."

SENATOR QUAY IS 70. PITTSBURG, Oct. 1.—Matthew Stanley Quay was seventy years old yesterday, and all day long telephone, telegraph and mail have been conveying congratulations from friends in every quarter.

The Quay residence at Beaver all day was besieged by friends and acquaintances, personally tender their good wishes. Among them was an unusually large number of old soldiers, comrades of Mr. Quay in the civil war.

There was no formal celebration other than a family gathering, which was held in the morning. The party included the immediate family, consisting of Mrs. Quay, her sons, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Davidson and daughter, Richard R. Quay, and family, Major Gen. J. H. Quay, former Quay and family, Miss Antoinette Quay, of Hudson, O., and one or two others.

Senator Quay reiterated his declaration to retire from the Senate at the conclusion of his present term on March 4, 1905.

Mr. Quay is as quick mentally and physically as twenty years ago.

By Samuel Goldsticker, foreclosure sale, one Hundred and Seventy-seventh street, south side, 100.8 feet east of Central avenue, 50 by 125, vacant. Sold to the plaintiff for $4,950.

By Bryan L. Kennally, foreclosure sale, 300 to 306 Third street, south side, 80 feet west of Eighth avenue, 54 by 100.8, three and four story stone front building. Sold to the plaintiff for $39,400.

STEAM LIGHTER SINKS. BAYVIEW POINT, Conn., Oct. 1.—The steam lighter Celtic of Bridgeport, Conn., to-day off Guard House Point, after having been abandoned in a leaking condition by her crew near Corn Neck Reef, last night, was towed ashore, safely. This reported that the vessel was leaking so badly that the pumps were unable to free her of water. After being abandoned the Celtic drifted ashore until she went down.

TRICK WATCHES IN BALE OF HOPS

Merchant Voluntarily Comes from Germany Because Customer in Chattanooga Was Arrested.

TOYS SAID TO BE INDECENT.

Objectable Articles Are to Be Turned Over to Anthony Comstock—Penalty for Importation Is $5,000 Fine or Imprisonment.

Coming all the way from Nuremberg, Germany, to voluntarily surrender himself and answer a charge made by the Government of entering an alleged fraudulent invoice, Paul Reinemann was this morning arraigned before United States Commissioner Shields. Through his counsel, Reinemann entered a plea of not guilty and was released in $2,500 bail, which he deposited in twenty-five new yellow bills.

According to the complaint sworn to by Chief of Agents William H. Rice, Reinemann, who is engaged in the export hop business and had a New York office, shipped a quantity of hops to Carl Neidhardt, at Chattanooga, Tenn., valued at $5,000.

In one of the bales of hops, so the complainant says, the accused placed two dozen toy watches, valued at $2 each, which were not on the invoice. The presence of the watches in the hops was discovered by the Government agents, who permitted them to remain that they might seize them and arrest Neidhardt after he had taken them out.

Neidhardt pleaded guilty to the charge after indictment by the Federal Courts of Tennessee.

When Reinemann learned of his customer's arrest and that a charge would probably be made against him, on the advice of his lawyers, he immediately came to New York and surrendered himself.

The motive for sending the so-called trick watches in the hops was not to escape payment of the duty, but in order to get them into this country, the objectionable character of the watches being such that the government would not allow them to be imported.

Reinemann said he did not see the objectionable watches, but merely put the box in which they came to him, having been ordered in Germany by his customer, Neidhardt, in the bale of hops as directed.

The maximum punishment for the offense charged is a fine of $5,000 and two years imprisonment, or both.

The Government officers wanted to leave out of the case the Commissioner Shields to be used as evidence, but the Commissioner declined to receive it, and insisted that it be sent to Anthony Comstock.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS STAY. They Gain a Point and Settle Property Dispute with City.

(Special to The Evening World.) WHITE PLAINS, Oct. 1.—The proceedings brought by the City of New York to compel the Christian Brothers to move from St. Joseph's College in the Muscote valley near Katonah, which has been condemned for watershed purposes, resulted to-day in an amicable settlement. The forty brothers at the college and about as many students are allowed by the city to occupy the college until the new college at Poughkeepsie is completed.

The watershed authorities attempted to destroy the college buildings and to evict the brothers, but the latter guard and their property with guns until an injunction could be secured. It is said that an award of $50,000 for the property and considerable interest has been paid to the brothers in settlement.

MARINE CORPS EXCLUDED. WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—The President has upheld Secretary Moody in his decision that the law which provides that naval officers with civil war records may be retired with the next highest grade does not apply to the Marine Corps.

Major-Gen. Heywood, commandant of the Marine Corps, will retire next Saturday, and Col. Reed, Forney, Meade and Polk, who are all close to the retirement age and saw service in the civil war, asked that they be made Brigadier-Generals and given pay to Col. Elliott, who will be the next commandant.

Moody denied their request on the ground that there was no warrant of law for such action, and that it would be against the best interests of the service.

Secretary Moody left for Boston last night after the session of the State Republican Convention to-morrow. He will make the speech renominating Gov. Curtis Guild, and will also renominating Gov. John L. Bates.

MINERS WANT NEW UMPIRE. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 1.—The Conciliation Board has asked Judge Gray to appoint an umpire to decide four cases on which the board is deadlocked.

Although the miners on the Conciliation Board would not express their feelings on the subject, it is known that the mine workers would rather have another umpire than Carroll D. Wright appointed. They say that his decision relative to the rockmen affects some two thousand men who would otherwise have been content to remain in the United Mine Workers' organization, but who are now forming an organization of their own.

The three district presidents of the United Mine Workers voted for the men and the other members of the board against them.

STERLING UNSETTLED. Sterling rates were unsettled at the opening of business to-day with demand slightly lower. It was the general belief that it would go still lower in view of the steady flow of cotton abroad. For this reason buyers of exchange showed a greater decline. The demand broke sharply this afternoon, falling to 4.87 1/2, a drop of ten points.

PENNSYLVANIA'S DIVIDEND. Directors of the Pennsylvania Company will meet at Philadelphia, Nov. 2, to act on the semi-annual dividend, the amount to be payable to stockholders of record Nov. 5.

SUNDAY WORLD WORK. MONDAY MORNING WONDERS.

H. SIEGEL TO HAVE BIG BOSTON STORE

New Building There Will Cover a Block and Be One of a Great Combination, Including New York and Chicago Concerns.

EMISSARY FOR ST. LOUIS FAIR

He Probably Will Be Charged with Settling of Troublesome Friar Lands Problem as Direct Representative of Holy Sec.

BOSTON, Oct. 1.—Formal announcement is made by C. W. Whittier & Bro. of the consummation of a series of real estate transactions by which an immense department store is to be constructed on the block bounded by Washington street, Essex street, Harvard place and Harrison avenue extension, and of the formation of a new real estate trust to be known as the Department Store Trust, of which Messrs. Charles E. Cotting and Francis C. Welch are the trustees. The capital is $500,000.

The trust is organized for the purpose of purchasing the property on the block included in this square. The lessees of the proposed building are Henry Siegel, of New York, and others, representing a wealthy syndicate which proposes to carry on a modern department store business on the premises, under the firm name of Henry Siegel & Co.

The plans provide for a large fireproof, seven-story structure, the architects being Winslow & Bigelow. The total assessed valuation for 1902 of the land and buildings comprising the lot was $2,275,500.

The new building is to cover the entire area, with the exception of a small estate on the corner of Harvard place and Harrison avenue extension, which is to be reserved for a term of years. This area will be used for light and air for the new building. The trustees of the new building will demolish the present buildings on or before Jan. 1, and the new structure, it is expected, will be completed in the early part of 1905.

It has been rumored that the Siegel-Cotting company, of New York, were to be the promoters of this enterprise, but that firm is in no way connected with the new building. The new building is to be the controlling interest in the new Simpson-Crawford company, department store, at Sixth avenue, New York, with branch department stores in Chicago, will be President of the establishment in Boston. E. J. Krauer, formerly with the R. H. White Company, will be Vice-President and general manager.

It is the intention of Mr. Siegel to create a harmony of interests between the various holdings, giving him control of the greatest combination of retail merchandise houses in the country. The new building will be incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts and will be modeled after the new Simpson-Crawford company, which is now being built at Sixth avenue and Fourteenth street on the site formerly occupied by the old Macy & Co. store.

The establishment in Boston intends to cater to the shopping public and will have the same facilities as the Macy & Co. store. Customers having accounts with the Boston store and wishing to do their shopping while visiting New York will have the same privileges in the Simpson-Crawford company's store in Boston, as they will enjoy in Boston.

KENTUCKIAN DROPS DEAD. The body of John W. Leil, a wealthy resident of Lexington, Ky., who dropped dead in the Morris and Essex Hotel, at West and Barclay streets, was forwarded to his home to-day. Mr. Leil had just returned from Germany and went to the hotel to remain over night. He had given orders about his baggage and went to the desk to register when he fainted and fell to the floor. A doctor was called, but the surgeon pronounced him dead.

Mr. Leil was one of the leading citizens of Lexington. He was sixty-five years of age and very wealthy. Since his retirement from business he had made annual trips to Germany.

SAYS ROOSEVELT FAVORS UNION SHOP

Federation Council Declares Miller Ruling Applies Only to Government Work and He Believes in Organization.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Labor leaders are greatly dissatisfied with the attitude assumed by President Roosevelt regarding the "open shop" policy. They had hoped until the President's statement of last night that he could be persuaded to recognize organized labor in principle and lessen the force of his former declarations. Despite arguments and persuasion the President vehemently reiterated his previous views with added strength and broadness.

This was what the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor had to say of the interview with the President in a long statement given out to-day:

"Other important questions affecting legislation, as per decision of the last convention, were taken up, and on behalf of the International Brotherhood of Union the Miller case was discussed. The Executive Council brought to the President's attention the manner in which his decision had been quoted, and in addition the relationship of Mr. Miller to the Bookbinders' Union, as brought forth in the charges against him. The 'open-shop' idea was carefully considered."

Referring to statements on the subject, President Roosevelt set forth that in his decision he had nothing in mind but the Federal Government, and that he recognized a difference between employment by the Government and employment by those laws and any other form of employment, and that his decision in the Miller case should not be understood to have any other effect or influence than affecting direct employment by the Government in accordance therewith.

"He furthermore made plain that in any form of employment, excepting that so circumscribed, he believed the full employment of union men was preferable either to non-union or 'open shop'."

What may be construed as an indication of possible organized opposition to President Roosevelt lies in this paragraph:

"The tolling masses, and particularly the organized wage earners, cannot, must not and will not surrender one jot of that which they have secured; must organize the yet unorganized, unite and federate those already organized to present a solid phalanx of the grand army of labor in earnest and emphatic protest against judicial usurpation or legislative invasion of our rights, at tempted no matter by whom, or from whatsoever source."

ROME TO PASS ON FRIARS PROBLEM

Philippine Questions to Be Dealt With Directly Between Vatican and Washington, and Papal Envoy Is Recalled.

REAPPEARED ONLY TO DENY HIS NAME

After 27 Years' Absence Osborne Told Wife He Was John Williams and Passed on, Despite Positive Identification.

ROME, Oct. 1.—The negotiations in the Philippine Islands between the Vatican and the United States Government regarding the sale of the land held by the friars and the removal of the native monks from the islands have been called off by Pius X.

Mgr. Guidi, the Roman prelate, sent to Manila as Apostolic Delegate to conduct the negotiations, has been recalled to Rome, where he is expected to arrive early in November in order that he may be assigned to some European nunciature.

The general opinion in Rome is that Mgr. Guidi's mission has failed principally because he would not accept the price offered for the friars' lands by the American Government, owing to the claim of the religious orders interested in the sale of the land.

There is a rumor that the Vatican will send a special envoy to represent the Pope at the St. Louis Exposition, and it is thought that this same prelate will be intrusted with negotiations touching the Philippines. The only difficulty in the way is the fact that the American Government may not recognize the Papal envoy as a full-fledged diplomat.

PROF. KOCH'S LYMPH INHALATION CURES. Asthma, Bronchitis, Consumption.

"I had asthma and shortness of breath for many years. I could not sleep for the dreadful coughing fits. I tried to Europe for my health, but was no better. After many months' drinking the waters of Baden-Baden, I felt no better. The professors and doctors seemed to think there was no cure for me, as I had been sick so long. As a last resort, I went to the doctor at 119 West 22d St., at corner of Erie's store, who cured me in three months."

"I feel very grateful to him for his services. I think he understands his cases perfectly, and would recommend him to any sufferer. He examines you free—hours, 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Daily. 119 West 22d St., at corner of Erie's store, who cured me in three months."
